

The communications and networking curriculum is currently being revised to better serve our students.

- Some course information may differ slightly from the USC catalogue while these changes are processed.
- The Fall 2014 semester will be the last offering of EE567.
- Several communications courses listed in the catalogue are not shown here because they have been consolidated into this revised curriculum and will be discontinued in the previous form.

